about me

When I (Lynell) started lizzie photo in 2009, it was just me. In 2012 just before we married, my husband joined me in photographing weddings. Now, with two young daughters and a far more hectic life, I serve as the primary and solo shooter for lizzie photo.

Just as my family has grown and evolved, so has my approach to photographing weddings. My utmost importance in your day is providing flexibility for you to experience your day fully, knowing it will be captured artfully, but without it feeling performative or forced.

Now that I've been photographing weddings for well over a decade, I've come to see the most important parts of the day aren't just the fancy details, but the tiny moments - because those moments have meaning, and those are the true memories..

Thank you for considering me as part of your wedding day - it is always appreciated to be part of such an important day.

fun facts about me:

I have visited 14 different countries (some of them multiple times).

i love learning languages (i've attempted 3 - french, dutch and spanish - but spanish is the one i love, and am currently studying.

Speaking of spanish, spain is my favorite place to visit. i've been five times and counting!

i have two lovely daughters, (eleanor and lillian) and a fabulous husband who can talk your ear off about beer and bourbon, and the cutest puppy, Firkin.

I love cooking (traditional western european is my favorite style).

I'm a montessori mom and substitute teacher in my "free" time.
